In order to keep updating the extension and pay for all the development work that has been done, we have to have a way to monetize the extension. We absolutely do not want you to pay for a dime out of your pocket for it so we have decided to do it through what you search on google and other search engine platforms. Now, we do not keep any of that information based on the actual thing that you search, it only tracks the amount of times you search and if you click on an ad. Nothing else. This is a way for us to keep developing the app and keep it open as we have invested lots of money trying to keep it up a running for you guys. We just wanted to be upfront and honest about it since you will notice an update within the next few days. This really helps us out and allows us, like I said, to keep developing the app further.
